Commitment: I understand the performance and practice requirements of the Marching Spartans, including Band Camp and summer rehearsals, and feel that I am able to make a commitment to this performing organization. I understand that participation in rehearsals and all performances* is of vital importance because each individual plays a significant role in the production of a marching show. I realize that I will be held accountable for seeing this through to its completion, which is at the end of the marching season. I also understand that I am expected to wear and handle my uniform with pride and with the respect it deserves.
